

2024 COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT REPORT

ENRICHING LIVES

A MESSAGE FROM OUR CEO

After more than thirty years in our prior office space, we relocated a few months ago to the Carmel Arts & Design District. We are now located more conveniently to many of our clients in Central Indiana, and our new office has been designed to enhance our services to our clients. The future here is bright indeed!

As with any move, we have reflected on the past 55 years of our firm. As much as things have changed over that time, the fundamentals have not. Our Core Purpose is to enrich the lives of our clients, colleagues, and community. And the Goelzer Experience is rooted in one word: Respect. Respect is at the heart of our values, which guide us in all that we do.

This year, our Enriching Lives report shares more about our firm's history. Ours is a history marked by growth in the number of clients served, the assets we are entrusted to manage, the services we offer, and the impact we make. We also share our investment philosophy, which guides our research-intensive approach to active management of our clients' portfolios.

With the guiding light of our Core Purpose and Core Values, the bedrock strength of our history, and the energy and focus of our team members, 2024 has been an exciting and productive year. In the pages that follow, you will see how we expanded the impact we are making in the communities in which we live, serve, and work.

Of course, none of this would be possible without the continued trust of our clients, the amazing capabilities of our team members, and the incredible capabilities of our partners in the community.

As we look ahead to the new year, we do so with respect for what we have accomplished and with optimism about what we will achieve together in 2025.

GREGORY W. GOELZER

GOELZER IS PROUD TO BE A MEMBER OF THESE ORGANIZATIONS

Mayor Sue Finkam cutting the ribbon with Greg Goelzer at the Grand Opening of our new office in the Carmel Arts & Design District in November.

OUR HISTORY

FOUNDING & EARLY EXPANSION (1969-1989)

Our firm was founded in 1969 by Don W. Goelzer as Goelzer & Co., initially focusing on brokerage and market-making services. We expanded our services to include business valuation, estate planning, and ESOP valuations. In 1981, Goelzer registered as an SEC-registered investment advisor, transitioning to fee-based discretionary asset management. By 1989, after acquiring Collett & Co., assets under management grew to $80 million.

GROWTH & TRANSITION (1990-2000)

We launched our Core Equity Strategies in 1990, laying the foundation for our investment approach. In 1992, our firm rebranded as Goelzer Investment Management. By 2000, our assets under management grew to over $400 million. During this time, we expanded our client base to include more institutions alongside individual and family clients.

CHALLENGES & RESILIENCE (2001-2007)

Goelzer weathered the dot com bubble and increased assets under management to more than $500 million. We focused on scalability, making key hires, and investing in technology. In 2007, Goelzer sold its valuation division, to focus on investment advisory services. In 2005, we launched our Rising Dividends Equity Strategy.

STRATEGIC EXPANSION & PLANNING (2008-2013)

During the 2008 downturn, we strengthened our team and prepared for growth. Assets under management surged from $686 million in 2011 to $1.2 billion by 2013. During this period, we set a long-term goal of reaching $10 billion in assets under management by 2033.

MODERNIZATION & SPECIALIZATION (2014-2024)

In 2014, Goelzer exited the broker-dealer space, focusing exclusively on fee-only advisory services. We also formalized our comprehensive wealth advisory services for private clients and our Institutional Advisory Services outsourced chief investment officer (OCIO) model.

We launched our Core Blend ESG Equity Strategy in 2016 and Alternative Fixed Income Strategy in 2020. In 2021, we formalized our G-PRO Sports services, and, in 2023, we expanded our Goelzer Private Office services. In 2024, we relocated to the Carmel Arts & Design District.

Over this period of time, assets under management increased to more than $3.5 billion.

As a co-founder of our firm as we know it today, Brett has been a leading force in our transition from a broker-dealer to a fee-based registered advisory firm and the expansion of our comprehensive wealth planning and institutional advisory services.

On his 35th anniversary at Goelzer, Brett will transition from President to serve as a Senior Partner. Brett will be succeeded by Chris Cotterill, our Chief Operating Officer. In his new role, Brett will continue to advise many of our highest-net-worth private clients, focus on initiatives that support the needs of our clients and position our advisors and consultants for success, and serve as an ex-officio member of our leadership team.

All of us at Goelzer thank Brett for his unwavering commitment to strive for positive outcomes and an awesome client experience, and we look forward to the years ahead together.

Brett D. McKamey

Our investment philosophy is rooted in a disciplined, unemotional approach that prioritizes resilience and growth. We focus on proven principles: responding to actual market events rather than speculating on the future, investing with a long-term perspective, and building diversified portfolios over taking concentrated risks.

OUR INVESTMENT PHILOSOPHY

Avoid the unknown and make known the productive.

Avoid investing in things you do not understand. But learn about promising investments unfamiliar to you. Above all, have clear rationale for all investment judgments.

A disciplined investment plan allows one to take advantage of what has happened instead of speculating on what may happen.

Instead of trying to predict whether the stock market will rise or fall, look at what has recently occurred and how that has affected your portfolio relative to its plan. For example, if a decline in the stock market has left your stock portfolio below its target weight, use that as a signal to add to stocks.

Avoid investments that offer only vague prospects of positive returns.

We are investors, not speculators. We seek investment opportunities that are biased toward positive returns from growth or income—not simply the hope that others may eventually pay a higher price for that opportunity.

Invest in a manner that makes time your friend, and more time a better friend.

Assets such as a diversified portfolio of high-quality stocks and bonds tend to produce positive results over longer time periods even though results may be negative in the short-term. Investing with a long-term horizon allows you to capitalize on the benefit of time.

Concentrated holdings have made some investors very wealthy. Well-diversified portfolios have made, and kept, many more investors wealthy.

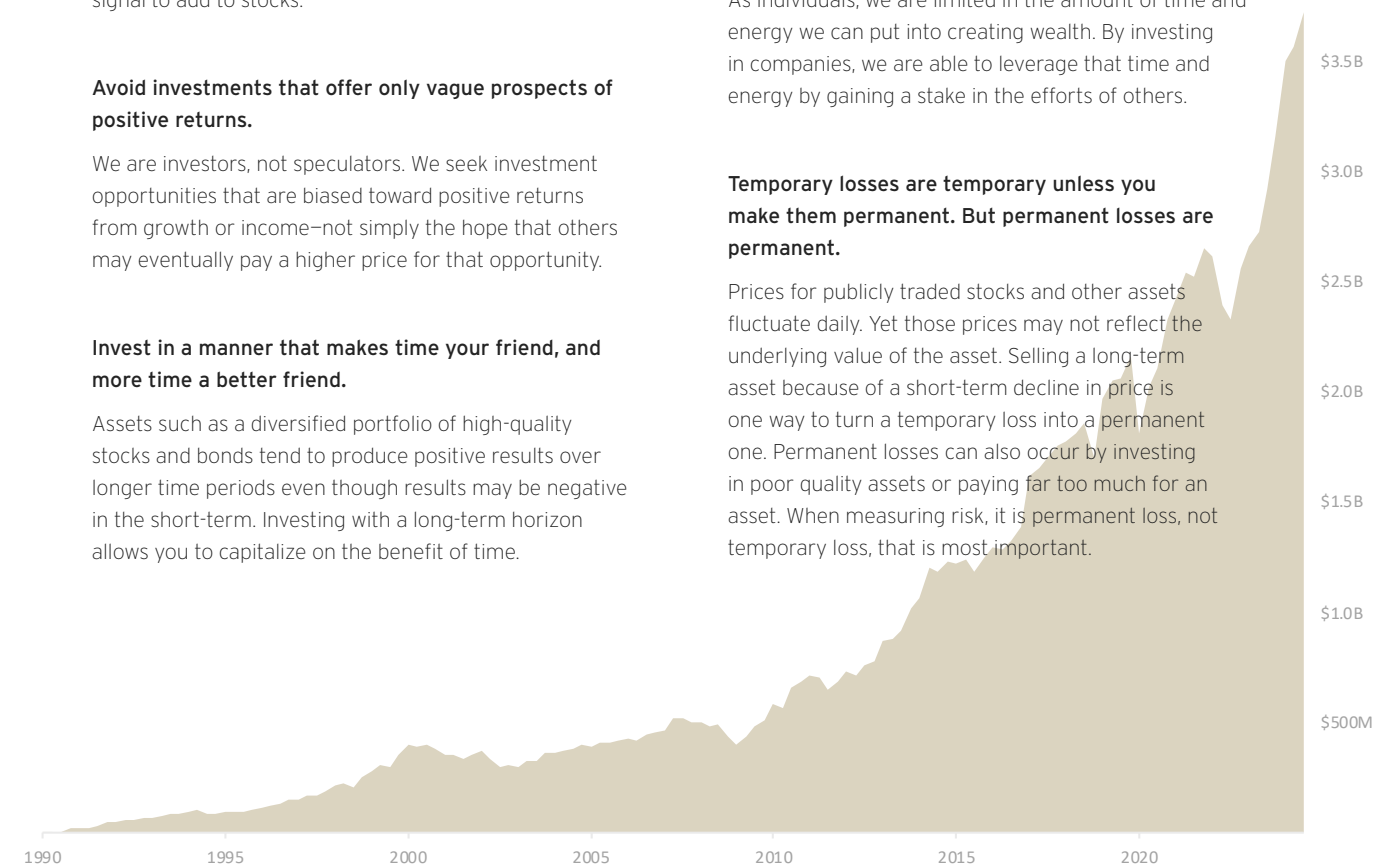

Large fortunes have been made by those owning concentrated stakes in highly successful companies. But concentrated holdings have caused large losses for far more investors. Owning a diversified portfolio means you will never have the optimal result but also that you will never have the worst result.

Equity ownership has been a proven path to wealth creation because it allows you to participate in the fruits of other people's work and innovation.

As individuals, we are limited in the amount of time and energy we can put into creating wealth. By investing in companies, we are able to leverage that time and energy by gaining a stake in the efforts of others.

Temporary losses are temporary unless you make them permanent. But permanent losses are permanent.

Prices for publicly traded stocks and other assets fluctuate daily. Yet those prices may not reflect the underlying value of the asset. Selling a long-term asset because of a short-term decline in price is one way to turn a temporary loss into a permanent one. Permanent losses can also occur by investing in poor quality assets or paying far too much for an asset. When measuring risk, it is permanent loss, not temporary loss, that is most important.

In March, Chris and other members of Team Goelzer spent the day organizing supplies and moving furniture so that Girls Inc. Indy could make better use of its recently renovated offices.

1

Goal 1
Programming

We can develop and deliver innovative, impactful, and equitable programs that inspire and empower girls to be strong, smart, and bold.

By fostering self-confidence and challenging societal norms, these programs aim to provide every girl with the tools and support she needs to develop the skills needed to thrive in a complex world. The focus is on creating a dynamic, responsive, and transformative learning environment that meets the diverse needs of all participants.

2

Goal 2
Girls' Voices

We uplift Girls' Voices to empower them to express themselves confidently so their voices are heard and valued in their communities and beyond.

By fostering an environment that encourages self-expression, advocacy, and leadership, we aim to create a platform where girls can share their stories, ideas, and perspectives. This goal is centered on building self-confidence and resilience, supporting girls to balance norms and make meaningful contributions to their communities.

3

Growth

We aim to strategically grow our organization by enhancing our external messaging, increasing the retention and recruitment of program participants, and exploring expansion opportunities both within and beyond Marion County.

This growth will enable us to serve more girls, provide them with the tools and support they need to thrive, and solidify our presence as a leading advocate for girls' empowerment. By focusing on these key areas, we will create a sustainable path for long-term success and amplify our mission to inspire all girls to be strong, smart, and bold.
